Welcome

Dear Prospective Patient,

On behalf of the faculty, staff, students, and residents (dentists in training) of the Columbia University College of Dental Medicine, I would like to welcome you to our clinical facility. The College of Dental Medicine is fully accredited by the Commission on Dental Accreditation, and is one of the finest dental schools in the country. Our students and residents are a group of highly qualified learners who were selected through a rigorous admissions process. Our credentialed faculty, student/resident providers and staff are committed to fostering an environment of mutual trust and respect.

One of the primary goals of the Columbia University College of Dental Medicine is to provide our patients with outstanding care in a comfortable professional environment, while maintaining reasonable fees. We believe that oral health is health. We are dedicated to delivering the standard of care for comprehensive, patient-centered care, within the scope of our programs. This means that our patients are fully informed of the results of their examination and the different methods that are available to treat their conditions. Our care requires that we can build and maintain a trusting patient-provider relationship. It is important that our patients feel comfortable with their proposed care management. Therefore, we strongly support our patients' input and participation in developing a treatment plan that suits their oral health and financial needs. All treatment plans are reviewed by general or pediatric dental faculty and, when indicated, specialist consultations are obtained. Planned treatment is sequenced and phased; sporadic or episodic care is discouraged. Patients interested in limited care are referred to appropriate providers in community practice or extramural facilities.

Columbia believes that patients must partner with us in maintaining their oral health. Our faculty, staff, students, and residents will educate patients in proper oral hygiene techniques and preventive therapies, which are essential to keeping a healthy mouth, and help prevent or control diseases that affect the rest of the body.

In closing, I hope that you find us providing you with outstanding care, and that your experiences here are positive. Should you ever have any feedback, please contact our Director of Patient Relations at Patientservices@cumc.columbia.edu
